Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill makes numerous changes to benefits provided under the Wisconsin retirement system (WRS) and to the financial structure of the WRS. The changes are as follows:

ASSEMBLY BILL 495Benefit improvements under the WRS

Under current law, when a participant in the WRS terminates covered employment and becomes eligible for a retirement annuity, one of the ways in which the amount of his or her annuity is determined is by multiplying the participant's final average earnings by the participant's years of creditable service and by a percentage multiplier. For a protective occupation participant who is covered by social security, an elected official and an executive participating employee, the percentage multiplier is 2%. For a protective occupation participant who is not covered by social security, the percentage multiplier is 2.5%. For all other participants in the WRS, the percentage multiplier is 1.6%.

This bill increases the percentage multiplier for all classes of participants in the WRS for creditable service that is performed before January 1, 2000. For a protective occupation participant who is covered by social security, an elected official and an executive participating employee, the percentage multiplier is increased to 2.165%. For a protective occupation participant who is not covered by social security, the percentage multiplier is increased to 2.665%. For all other participants in the WRS, the percentage multiplier is increased to 1.765%. The increase in the percentage multiplier first applies to the calculation of retirement benefits for individuals who are participating employees in the WRS on January 1, 2000. For all creditable service that is performed on or after January 1, 2000, however, the bill provides that the current law percentage multipliers will apply.

Variable annuities

Under current law, assets in the variable retirement investment trust of the public employe trust fund are almost entirely invested in equities, while about 58% of the assets in the fixed retirement investment trust (FRIT) are invested in equities. Participating employes in the WRS who elect to have part of their employe required contributions segregated for a variable annuity have these contributions deposited into the variable retirement investment trust, while all other participating employes in the WRS who have all or part of their required contributions segregated for a fixed annuity have these contributions deposited into the FRIT.

Under current law, employe contribution accumulations in the variable retirement investment trust are credited annually with interest at the effective rate, which is essentially the actual rate of return on the assets, after all expenses are deducted. In contrast, contribution accumulations in the FRIT are credited with interest at the effective rate only for those participating employes who were participating employes before January 1, 1982. In contrast, participating employes who began WRS covered employment on or after January 1, 1982, have their contribution accumulations in the FRIT credited with interest at the assumed benefit rate, which is a rate of 5%.

Under current law, eligibility to participate in the variable annuity program is closed to all participants except to those who elected to participate in the program before April 30, 1980. This bill permits any participant in the WRS who is a participating employe on January 1, 2001, to participate in the variable annuity program.

ASSEMBLY BILL 495Increase in maximum amount of initial retirement annuity

Under current law, the maximum amount of an initial annuity for a participant in the WRS who receives an annuity that is calculated using the percentage multiplier, other than a protective occupation participant who is not covered by social security, is an amount equal to 65% of the participant's final average earnings. This bill increases the amount to 70% for participants who are participating employees on the effective date of the bill.

Calculation of unfunded prior service liability balances

Under current law, for the purpose of funding retirement benefits under the WRS, employees and employers are required to pay contributions. These contributions are generally referred to as employee required contributions and employer required contributions. The contribution rates are based on participating employees' earnings and are determined annually. Under current law, the employer must pay the employer required contributions and may pay any of the employee required contributions on behalf of the employee. In addition, employers covered under the WRS must pay contributions for any unfunded prior service liability that is owed to the WRS as a result of past benefit improvements under the WRS that were not fully funded at the time of their creation and of recognizing prior service earned by employees before the employer became a covered employer under the WRS.

Currently, contribution rates for the payment of unfunded prior service liability are amortized over 40 years and the unfunded prior service liability balance may not be adjusted to reflect any change in the actuarial assumptions that are used to value the liabilities of the WRS. Consequently, the unfunded prior service liability balance may exceed or be less than the amount that is actuarially required to fund the unfunded prior service incurred by employers under the WRS.

This bill authorizes DETF to adjust the unfunded prior service liability balance of the WRS and of each employer to reflect any changes in certain assumptions used to value the liabilities of the WRS if the actuary recommends and the employee trust funds board approves the changes or if otherwise provided by law.

Accelerated distribution of moneys from the transaction amortization account of the fixed retirement investment trust

Under current law, the FRIT and a variable retirement investment trust are maintained within the public employee trust fund under the management of the investment board. Within the FRIT, a transaction amortization account (TAA) is maintained and used to smooth out fluctuations in unrecognized gains and losses in the value of FRIT assets. The balance of the TAA closely parallels the difference between market value and the adjusted book value of the assets. Annually, 20% of the balance of the TAA is distributed to participating accounts in the fixed annuity reserve, the fixed employer accumulation reserve and the fixed employee accumulation reserve.

This bill provides that on December 31, 1999, $4,000,000,000 is to be distributed from the TAA to the reserves and accounts in the FRIT in an amount equal to a percentage of the total distribution determined by dividing each reserve's and account's balance on the prior January 1 by the total balance of the FRIT on the prior January 1.

ASSEMBLY BILL 495Establishment of employer required contribution credits

Under the bill, $200,000,000 of the increase in the fixed employer accumulation reserve that results from the distribution from the TAA will be used to establish contribution credits for payments for employers that have unfunded prior service liability under the WRS. For those employers that do not have unfunded prior service liability, the credits will be used to make payments for their required employer contributions under the WRS. During the period in which the credits are used, the employers that have unfunded prior service liability will not be required to make payments for unfunded prior service liability and those employers that do not have unfunded prior service liability will not be required to make employer required contributions.

Elimination of transaction amortization account and creation of market recognition account

This bill eliminates the TAA over a five-year period and creates, in its place, a market recognition account (MRA) that is to be used for distributing the total market value investment return earned by the FRIT. Under the bill, on each December 31, the following amounts are to be distributed from the MRA to each participating account in the FRIT:

1. The expected amount of investment return in the FRIT.
2. An amount equal to 20% of the difference between the total market value investment return earned by the FRIT and the expected amount of investment return of the FRIT during the year ending on December 31.
3. An amount equal to 20% of the sum of the differences between the total market value investment return earned by the FRIT and the expected amount of investment return of the FRIT at the end of the four preceding years.

Determination of actuarial assumptions for certain purposes under the WRS

Under current law, the “assumed rate” is the probable average effective rate that is expected to be earned for the FRIT on a long-term basis. Currently, the assumed rate is a rate of 8% and the actuarial assumption for across-the-board salary increases for the purpose of valuing the liabilities of the WRS is 3.2% less than the assumed rate unless due to changed economic circumstances the actuary recommends and the employe trust funds board approves a different rate. The assumed rate for a calendar year is used for all calculations of required contributions and reserves for WRS participants and employers.

This bill increases the actuarial assumption for across-the-board salary increases for the purpose of valuing the liabilities of the WRS from 3.2% less than the assumed rate to 3.4% less than the assumed rate.

Interest crediting on employe required contribution accumulations

Under current law, for those participants in the WRS who are hired on or after January 1, 1982, interest is credited annually to their employe required contribution accumulations in the fixed annuity division of the employe trust fund at the assumed benefit rate. The assumed benefit rate is 5%. This bill provides that interest on these accumulations for participants who are participating employes in the WRS on the effective date of the bill is to be credited at the effective rate. The effective rate is essentially the interest rate earned by the accumulations, after all expenses are deducted.

ASSEMBLY BILL 495

Death benefits under the WRS

Under current law, the death benefit for most participants in the WRS, other than annuitants, equals the sum of the additional and employer required contribution accumulations credited to the participant's account. In other words, the death benefit does not include the employer required contribution accumulations. However, if the participant at the time of death was a participating employe, had attained the age of 55, or the age of 50 if he or she was a protective occupation participant, and his or her beneficiary is a dependent, the death benefit is equal to the present value of the life annuity that the beneficiary would have received had the participating employe been eligible to receive an annuity and had elected to receive the annuity in the form of a joint and survivor annuity. The valuation of such a death benefit would include the employer required contribution accumulations.

This bill eliminates the requirement that the beneficiary be a dependent in order to receive the death benefit that equals the present value of a life annuity in the form of a joint and survivor annuity. Instead, the bill requires that the beneficiary must be a natural person or a trust in which a natural person has a beneficial interest. In addition, for a participating employe who has not attained age 55, and any protective occupation participant who has not attained age 50, the bill increases the death benefit for such a participating employe to an amount equal to the sum of the employe additional contribution and twice the employe required contribution accumulations, including any interest credited to the accumulations.

Purchase of creditable service by legislators and legislative service agency employes

This bill permits any person who is a participating employe in the WRS to purchase creditable service under the WRS for any service not previously credited that was performed by the person as a member or employe of the legislature or employe of a legislative service agency.

This bill will be referred to the joint survey committee on retirement systems for a detailed analysis, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.

3 annuitant, to elect to transfer previous variable contribution accumulations to the 4 fixed annuity division. A transfer of variable contribution accumulations under this 5 paragraph shall result in the participant receiving the accrued gain or loss from the 6 participant's variable participation. A participant may specify that election to cancel
7 participation in the variable annuity division is conditional. If the participant so 8 specifies the election is effective on the first date on which it may take effect on which

24 determined under pars. (c), (d) and (e) as modified by par. (f) and in accordance with 25 the actuarial tables in effect on the annuity effective date. If the participant has

ASSEMBLY BILL 495

1 creditable service under both par. (e) 4. and another category under par. (e), the 2 percent applied under this paragraph shall be determined by multiplying the
3 percent that each type of creditable service is of the participant's total creditable
4 service by 85% and ~~65%~~ 70%, respectively, and adding the results, except that the 5 resulting benefit may not be less than the amount of the normal form annuity that
6 could be paid based solely on the creditable service under par. (e) 4.

7 SECTION 17. 40.23 (2m) (e) 1. of the statutes is amended to read:

8 40.23 (2m) (e) 1. For each participant for creditable service of a type not

12 been performed before January 1, 2000.

13 2. This paragraph shall only apply to participants who are participating
14 employes on or after January 1, 2000.

16 40.26 (2) (b) The amount of the annuity payments, excluding any portion 17 originally provided by additional contributions, which would have been paid under 18 the terminated annuity, if the annuity had been a straight life annuity, prior to the 19 participant's normal retirement date or prior to the annuity termination date, 20 whichever would first occur, shall be credited to a memorandum account which is
